

FGXpress Powerstrips Indication list

This list does not contain any promises of healing, it has emerged from experience reports u. also does not claim to be complete. Man is an individual being and thus all reactions can be different.

Important to this list are the adhesive dots themselves. When ordered, this is included for each of the indications listed here.

Please note additional comments at the end of the list!

Understanding of two examples so that no false expectations are raised.

An inflammatory process always involves bacteria. In addition, the body tries to help itself by placing water retention in these areas to organize the removal of foreign matter. This has the consequence that it comes to expansions in the areas that exert pressure on the ever involved nerve zones. That's our pain.

The same applies to operations. The expansions are caused by blood vessels destroyed during the operation and thereby blood clotted, additional fluid to break it down again. The inevitable swelling presses on nerves that is our pain.

Painkillers try to suppress these reactions, the nerves are becoming increasingly insensitive, the doses must be increased, so that at all an analgesic effect is achieved. A really supportive effect is not expected.

The FG Xpress PowerStrips™ work at this point as follows: The outer skin contains germanium, which causes the body's own body heat to be radiated back from the patches in the zone, resulting in significantly better blood flow and thus faster removal of the foreign substances u. supports the body initiated process. The swelling is reduced and the pain is significantly reduced.

The ionized silver has a direct antibacterial effect and attacks bacteria, viruses and the parasites directly and thus ends the inflammatory process.

Here are two examples:

Example 1.

Toothache. They can have different causes. One may be that foreign bodies have invaded the tooth - opening that has formed over the years, etc. This leads very quickly to inflammation - toothache so.

Now stick one or two strips of FG Xpress PowerStrips™ on the cheek and the toothaches are gone overnight, you have slept well and can go back to your rhythm.

Only, the tooth is not repaired, the opening is still there u. can not be closed with the patches - means you still need to go to the dentist to fix the cause.

Since toothache almost always occurred at the weekend or at night, you have 2 options: with painkillers or patches ..

Example 2.

Joint pain, there are 2 types:

1. the inflamed joint, called arthritis. Here the patches help very well and also fast. As described above, the inflammatory pathogens will rapidly improve the pain situation by the self-heat increase and the good control by the silver ions.

2. Osteoarthritis. There are two possibilities: First, there may be a true deformation of the joint (after accident, external influence) or, in all cases, that wear of the hyaline cartilage layer has occurred.

In both cases, the patch can regenerate the cartilage layer over a long period of use.

Background here are the 4 components in the FG Xpress PowerStrips™

1. Germanium with its constant slight increase in self-heat through the reflection of the body's own heat

2. Phytoplankton with all vitamins, minerals and all essential amino acids. Of these trace elements, the body always takes exactly what he needs u. the sometimes destructive path through the digestive area is avoided.

3. Fermented Korean ginseng. Fermented means that the ginseng has been rendered particularly bioavailable by gentle steaming. All good qualities are directly available to the body without digestive processes.

4. Silver ions known for successfully controlling bacteria, viruses, fungi and other parasites.

All this combined with the very skin-friendly carrier patch in which there has not yet been an allergic reaction.

One last note: FG Xpress PowerStrips™ are the ideal dietary supplement for long-term use. Instead of minerals and vitamins on a synthetic basis, which are offered in supermarkets and pharmacies and of which the body absorbs little. A large study in Denmark has proved that wrong u. too many dietary supplements (even natural) may have great damage!

FG Xpress PowerStrips™ do not work through the digestive tract - where much is lost - but the ingredients are absorbed through the skin just as much as the body just needs. Over or under supply is excluded.
